Tŷ Rhosyn

Ending Rural Homelessness

Domestic abuse can be both a cause and a consequence of homelessness.

The Tŷ Rhosyn Project is a programme of assistance that identifies and addresses homelessness in rural Carmarthenshire and Ceredigion. It aims to assist vulnerable individuals from threats of homelessness or those in crisis as a result of homelessness. The service is for those experiencing domestic abuse.

Specifically, the Tŷ Rhosyn project can help individuals:-

 Safely leave their home

 Safely stay in their home

 Liaise with housing associations/social landlords

 Access refuge/ supported accommodation

 Make a homelessness application to their local council

 Access private rented housing

 Manage their rent

In Wales, domestic abuse continues to be a significant cause of homelessness. In the 2022-2023 period, 5,094 households were identified as unintentionally homeless and in priority need, marking a 25% increase from the previous year.
(Gov.Wales 2024)

In 2023/24, 46% of households that were prevented from becoming homeless were able to stay in their existing home due to specialist support including domestic abuse prevention.
(Gov.Wales 2024)

How long is the period of support for?

Service users will be supported for 6-12 weeks.

Those needing additional support can be referred to further internal and external services.
